On August 15, 2014, two putative class members filed objections to the proposed settlement. ECF No. 154. They contend that the scope of the settlement's release provision potentially includes claims that are being litigated in another putative class action, captioned Mata v. Manpower, Monterey County Case No. M127969.

1. Respond in writing to the objections and issues raised by the Mata putative class members in ECF No. 154 and its supporting declarations;

2. Identify any other pending lawsuits involving claims asserted by individuals who are putative class members in this action and that could potentially fall within the scope of the release provision in the settlement in this action; and

3. File proof that Manpower has given notice to counsel in any such additional lawsuits of the pendency of this action and of the proposed settlement.

Once the Court has reviewed Manpower's August 26 submission, it will determine whether further action on the Court's part is required. For now, the September 4, 2014 preliminary approval hearing remains on calendar.
